Introduction and Aims

Relationships, Sex and Health Education (RSHE) is embedded in the emotional, social and cultural development of pupils, and, when considered across the whole educational age range from Early Years to Year 13, involves learning at an age-appropriate level about relationships, sexual health, sexuality, consent, healthy lifestyles, diversity and personal identity. It involves both sharing information and exploring issues and values in an objective environment which promotes respect, tolerance and understanding. RSE is not about the promotion of sexual activity.

The aims of relationships, sex and health education (RSHE) at our school are to:

- Provide a framework in which sensitive discussions can take place
- Prepare pupils for puberty, and give them an understanding of sexual development and the importance of health and hygiene
- Help pupils develop feelings of self-respect, confidence and empathy, and cultivate positive characteristics such as kindness and integrity
- Create a positive culture and promote healthy norms about relationships, including sexual relationships where relevant, and about health, including mental health
- Teach pupils the correct vocabulary to describe themselves and their bodies

Griffin House School Ethos

Griffin House is a nurturing and caring school, sustaining values which encourage children to develop a love of learning and to discover their own strengths in an environment where every person is valued. Griffin House aims to develop skills for life: resilience, integrity, passion and respect for others and the environment, creativity and imagination and a desire to live life to the full.

At Griffin House we aim to create an environment in which children are happy, motivated to achieve and enthusiastic about their learning.

We believe that at Griffin House Preparatory School every pupil matters, and their learning should be fun, purposeful, and challenging. We are committed to delivering inspirational teaching, encouraging pupils to thrive and achieve as individuals, preparing them for their role as caring and active citizens in the global community. Our PSHE curriculum is rooted in our ethos and values of our school.

References and Statutory Requirements

As a school, we must provide relationships education to all pupils under section 34 of the Children and Social Work Act 2017. We must also teach health education.

We are not required to provide sex education, but we do need to teach the elements of sex education contained in the science curriculum.

In teaching RSHE, we must have regard to guidance issued by the secretary of state, as outlined in section 403 of the Education Act 1996.

We also have regard to legal duties set out in:

- Sections 404 to 407 of the Education Act 1996
- Part 6, chapter 1 of the Equality Act 2010
- The Public Sector Equality Duty (PSED) (as set out in section 149 of the Equality Act 2010). This duty requires public bodies to have due regard to the need to eliminate discrimination, advance equality of opportunity and foster good relations between different people when carrying out their activities

At Griffin House School, we teach RSHE as set out in this policy.

Policy Development

This policy has been developed in consultation with staff, pupils and parents/carers. The consultation and policy development process involved the following steps:

- Review – all relevant information including relevant national and local guidance was gathered and used during the review.
- Staff consultation – all school staff were given the opportunity to look at the policy and make recommendations.
- Parent consultation – parents/carers were made aware of the RSHE requirements from and have been informed of them by * letter / meeting
- Pupil consultation – pupil voice was consulted in relation to this policy via * school council, class discussion, opportunities to raise necessary needs
- Ratification – once amendments were made, the policy was shared with the Director Advisers in August 2026 and by the School Advisory Board and ratified at the Autumn Term meeting.

Definition

Relationships and health education will:

- Teach the skills and knowledge that form the building blocks of all positive relationships

- Support children from the start of their education to grow into kind, caring adults who:
 - Have respect for others
 - Know how to keep themselves safe
 - Have emotional awareness
- Highlight the benefits and importance of physical activity, good nutrition, sufficient sleep and time spent outdoors
- Emphasise the relationship between physical health and mental wellbeing
- Aim to reduce stigma attached to health issues, in particular relating to mental health, and discourage the pejorative use of language related to ill health.

At Griffin House School, we believe children should understand the facts about human reproduction before they leave primary school. We define Sex Education as understanding human reproduction. We intend to teach this as part of our PSHE curriculum. Parents have the right to request withdrawal from any non-statutory sex education lessons, in accordance with Department for Education guidance.

Curriculum

Our RSHE curriculum is set out as per Appendices 1 and 2, but we may need to adapt it as and when necessary.

We have developed the curriculum in consultation with parents and carers, pupils and staff, and taking into account the age, developmental stage, needs (such as cultural and religious needs) and feelings of our pupils. If pupils ask questions outside the scope of this policy, teachers will respond in an appropriate manner so that pupils are fully informed and don't seek answers online. Teaching will be developed to ensure the curriculum is accessible for pupils with SEND.

We will share all curriculum materials with parents and carers on request.

Delivery

RSHE is taught within the personal, social, health and economic (PSHE) education curriculum. Biological aspects of RSHE are taught within the science curriculum, and other aspects are included in religious education (RE).

The school will make sure that:

- Core knowledge is sectioned into units of manageable size
- The required content is communicated to pupils clearly, in a carefully sequenced way and within a planned scheme of work
- Teaching includes sufficient and well-chosen opportunities and contexts for pupils to embed new knowledge, so that it can be used confidently in real-life situations
- “Over blocking” by the school’s filtering and monitoring system doesn’t lead to unreasonable restrictions as to what children can be taught

Relationships education focuses on teaching the skills and knowledge that form the building blocks of all positive relationships, supporting children from the start of their education to grow into kind, caring adults who have respect for others and know how to keep themselves and others safe, including:

- Families and people who care for me
- Caring friendships
- Respectful, kind relationships
- Online safety and awareness
- Being safe
- Health education will:
- Highlight the benefits and importance of physical activity, good nutrition, sufficient sleep and time spent outdoors
- Emphasise the relationship between physical health and mental wellbeing

*The statutory guidance recommends that primary schools teach sex education in year 5 and/or year 6, in line with content about conception and birth in the science curriculum, but it is not compulsory. It is up to your school to determine whether you need to cover any additional content on sex education to meet the needs of your pupils. At Griffin House School, we believe children should understand the facts about human reproduction before they leave primary school. We define Sex Education as understanding human reproduction. We intend to teach this as part of our PSHE curriculum. Parents have the right to request withdrawal from any non-statutory sex education lessons, in accordance with Department for Education guidance.

Primary sex education taught in year 5 and/or year 6 will be taught in line with the National Curriculum for science, and focus on:

- The main external body parts
- The human body as it grows from birth to old age (including puberty)
- Reproduction in some plants and animals
- How a baby is conceived (in line with the factual curriculum of conception set out in the science curriculum)

Throughout each year group we will use appropriate material to assist learning, such as:

- Diagrams

- Videos
- Books
- Games
- Discussions and practical activities

Teachers will make sure that all pupils' views are listened to and will encourage them to ask questions and engage in discussion. Teachers will answer questions sensitively, honestly and appropriately for the age of the pupils.

The programme will be designed to focus on boys as much as girls, and activities will be planned to make sure both are actively involved.

Pupils will be introduced to protective and preventative content in a way that does not cause unreasonable alarm and does not appear to normalise risky behaviours or activities. The school will make sure that all teaching and materials are appropriate for the ages and needs of the pupils including any additional needs, such as special educational needs and disabilities (SEND).

At Kapow Primary, our RSE & PSHE scheme of work has been updated in response to the 2025 guidance. The Kapow scheme has created new lessons, pupil videos and interactive presentations in consultation with specialists – including nutritionists, dentists and RSE experts. Diverse characters and real-life scenarios will help children connect with the material and see themselves represented.

At all points of delivery of the curriculum, the school will consult parents and carers, and their views will be valued. What will be taught and how will be planned in conjunction with parents and carers.

Kapow Primary's RSE & PSHE curriculum has been designed as a spiral curriculum with the following key principles in mind:

Cyclical – pupils revisit RSE & PSHE knowledge and skills across the key areas throughout their time in primary school.

Increasing depth – each time a theme within a key area is revisited, it is explored with greater maturity and complexity.

Prior knowledge – pupils build on what they have already learned, making connections rather than starting again.

Assessment during the lesson

Formative assessment is embedded throughout Kapow Primary's RSE & PSHE lessons to ensure that teachers can gauge pupils' understanding in real time and adapt their teaching accordingly.

Questioning – lesson plans include targeted and open-ended questions to check understanding, promote critical thinking and address misconceptions.

Observation – teachers are supported to observe pupils during tasks, noting how they approach activities, collaborate and apply geographical skills.

Discussion and peer interaction – pair and group discussions are built into lessons, providing opportunities for pupils to articulate their thinking and for teachers to assess understanding through dialogue.

Lesson pauses – plans include strategic pause points for checking comprehension, summarising learning and addressing any common errors before progressing.

Retrieval practice – recap activities such as short recall tasks and oral explanations are embedded to reinforce prior knowledge and assess retention.

Use of success criteria – success criteria are shared within lessons, allowing pupils to self-assess or peer-assess their work and reflect on their progress.

Short reflections in the Wrapping up – lessons conclude with brief written or verbal reflections, enabling pupils to consolidate their learning and teachers to gauge understanding.

For more information about our RSHE curriculum, see Appendices 1 and 2.

We may amend our curriculum content to respond to the needs and context of our pupils, to discuss issues affecting them in an age-appropriate manner. We will inform parents and carers of any deviation from our published policy in advance, and share any relevant materials on request.

These areas of learning are taught within the context of family life, taking care to make sure that there is no stigmatisation of children based on their home circumstances (i.e. families can include single-parent families, same-sex parents, families headed by grandparents, adoptive parents and foster parents among other structures), along with reflecting sensitively that some children may have a different structure of support around them (for example, looked-after children, young carers or kinship carers).

Across our school, we will also be mindful of the law and legal requirements, taking care not to condone or encourage illegal activity, such as violent action against people, criminal damage to property or hate crime.

At Griffin House School we use Kapow PSHE (Personal, Social and Health Education) and RSE (Relationships and Sex Education) curriculum planning. The Kapow Primary RSE & PSHE scheme covers the full breadth of learning pupils need to stay healthy, safe and prepared for life.

Inclusivity

We will teach about these topics in a manner that:

- Considers how a diverse range of pupils will relate to them
- Is accessible to pupils with SEND
- Is sensitive to all pupils' experiences
- During lessons, makes pupils feel:
 - Safe and supported
 - Able to engage with the key messages

We will also:

Make sure that pupils learn about these topics in an environment that's appropriate for them, for example in:

- A whole-class setting
- Small groups or targeted sessions
- 1-to-1 discussions
- Digital formats

Give careful consideration to the level of differentiation needed.

Role of School Advisors, Head and Staff

The School Advisory Board will approve the RSHE policy, and hold the headteacher to account for its implementation.

The headteacher is responsible for making sure that RSHE is taught consistently across the school, for sharing all resources and materials with parents and carers, and for managing requests to withdraw pupils from the non-statutory components of RSHE (see section 9).

Staff are responsible for:

- Delivering RSHE in a way that is sensitive, high-quality and appropriate for each year group and modelling positive attitudes to the area
- Monitoring progress and responding to the needs of individual pupils
- Responding appropriately to pupils whose parents/carers wish them to be withdrawn from the non- statutory components of RSHE
- Modelling positive behaviour and avoiding language that might perpetuate harmful stereotypes, and being conscious of everyday sexism, misogyny/misandry, homophobia, biphobia, sexual violence/harassment, derogatory behaviour and stereotypes
- Where misogynistic ideas are expressed at school, challenging the ideas, rather than the person expressing them
- Reporting any safeguarding concerns or disclosures that pupils may make as a result of the subject content to the school's designated safeguarding lead (DSL) Tracey White

Staff do not have the right to opt out of teaching RSHE. Staff who have concerns about teaching RSHE are encouraged to discuss this with the headteacher.

RSHE/PSHE Lead – Tracey White

Pupils

Pupils are expected to engage fully in RSHE and, when discussing issues related to RSHE, treat others with respect and sensitivity.

Parents' right to withdraw

Parents/carers do not have the right to withdraw their child from relationships and health education.

Parents/carers have the right to withdraw their child from the non-statutory components of sex education within RSHE – the headteacher will grant all requests to withdraw a pupil from the non-statutory parts of sex education.

Requests for withdrawal should be put in writing using the form found in Appendix 3 of this policy and addressed to the headteacher. Alternative schoolwork will be given to pupils who are withdrawn from sex education.

Training

Staff are trained on the delivery of RSHE as part of their induction and it is included in our continuing professional development calendar.

Monitoring and Review

The school is committed to monitoring and evaluating the effectiveness of its RSHE Programme and uses a range of approaches, including assessment of the pupils' knowledge and understanding, pupil feedback, staff review and feedback and gathering the views of parents. As part of the school's commitment to listening to and responding appropriately to the views of its pupils, and enabling them to evaluate the quality of their learning experiences, the school takes into account the voice of the pupils about teaching and learning in RSHE. The policy is reviewed on an annual basis.

Monitoring arrangements

The delivery of PSHE is monitored by the PSHE Lead Tracey White.

Monitoring will include:

Lesson observations and learning walks

Pupil voice activities

Book scrutinies

Curriculum planning reviews

Staff discussions

Assessment information

Parent feedback where appropriate

This policy is reviewed annually by the PSHE Lead Tracey White and approved by the Headteacher on behalf of the Proprietor. The Governing Body monitors implementation through regular review and reporting

Sensitive and controversial issues are certain to arise in learning from real-life experience. Teachers are trained and prepared to handle personal issues arising from studies in RSE, to deal sensitively with, and to follow up appropriately, disclosures made in a group or individual setting. Issues are likely to be sensitive and controversial because they have a political, social or personal impact or deal with values and beliefs. This may include family lifestyles and values, physical and medical issues, financial issues, bullying and bereavement.

Teachers will take all reasonable, practical steps to ensure that, where political or controversial issues are brought to pupils' attention, they are offered a balanced presentation of opposing views. Teachers will adopt strategies that seek to avoid bias on their part and will teach pupils how to recognise bias and evaluate evidence. Teachers will seek to establish a classroom climate in which all pupils are free from any fear of expressing reasonable points of view that contradict those held either by their class teacher or their peers.

The school will give due consideration as to whether some aspects of the RSE curriculum, menstruation being a case in point, will be more effectively and sensitively provided with the pupils divided into single-sex groupings.

Appendix 2: By the end of Year 6 should know

TOPIC	PUPILS SHOULD KNOW
Families and people who care for me	• That families are important for children growing up because they can give love, security and stability • The characteristics of safe and happy family life, such as: commitment to each other, including in times of difficulty, protection and care for children and other family members, the importance of spending time together and sharing each other's lives • That other children's families, either in school or in the wider world, sometimes look different from their own, but they should respect those differences and know that other families are also characterised by love and care • That stable, caring relationships are at the heart of safe and happy families, and are important for children's security as they grow up • That marriage and civil partnerships represent a formal and legally recognised commitment of 2 people to each other which is intended to be lifelong • How to recognise if family relationships are making them feel unhappy or unsafe, and how to seek help or advice from others if needed
Caring friendships	• How important friendships are in making us feel happy and secure, and how people choose and make friends • The characteristics of friendships that lead to happiness and security, including: mutual respect, truthfulness, trust and trustworthiness, loyalty, kindness, generosity, sharing interests and experiences and support with problems and difficulties • That healthy, caring and kind friendships are positive and welcoming towards others, and do not make others feel lonely or excluded. Pupils should learn skills for developing caring, kind friendships • That not every child will have the friends they would like at all times, that most people feel lonely sometimes, and that there is no shame in feeling lonely or talking about it • That most friendships have ups and downs, and that these can often be worked through so that the friendship is repaired or even strengthened • About managing conflict with kindness and respect, and that violence is never right • How to recognise when a friendship is making them feel unhappy or uncomfortable, and how to seek help or advice from others, if needed

Respectful, kind relationships	• How to pay attention to the needs and preferences of others, including in families and friendships. Pupils should be encouraged to discuss how we can balance the needs and wishes of different people in relationships, and why this can be complicated • The importance of setting and respecting healthy boundaries in all relationships with friends, family, peers and adults • How to communicate effectively and manage conflict with kindness and respect: how to be assertive and express needs and boundaries and manage feelings, including disappointment and frustration • That they can expect to be treated with respect by others and the importance of respecting others, including those who are different (for example: physically or in character, personality or background), or make different choices, or have different preferences or beliefs • The practical steps they can take in a range of different contexts to improve or support their relationships • The conventions of courtesy and manners • The importance of self-respect and how this links to their own happiness. They should have opportunities to consider issues like how they foster their own self-esteem and build a strong sense of their own identity, including through developing skills and interests • Pupils should have opportunities to discuss the difference between being assertive and being controlling, and the difference between being kind to other people and neglecting your own needs • About different types of bullying (including online bullying), the impact of bullying, responsibilities of bystanders (primarily reporting bullying to an adult) and how to get help • How to seek help when needed, including when they are concerned about violence, harm, or when they are unsure who to trust • What a stereotype is, and how stereotypes can be unfair, negative or destructive or lead to bullying and how to challenge a stereotype
